COLLECTIVE Shapers

If you're looking for a venue for your next family reunion, team building or place where you can enjoy a fun and relaxing day with your loved ones, then Kgotleng Events Venue is a good place to start.

Founded in 2015, this family-owned resort was created for the purpose of providing a space for families and individuals to unwind and relax. With lapas, pools and playgrounds, there's something for everyone to come together and have light-hearted fun, no matter your age.

Located in rural Soshanguve, Kgotleng Events Venue is a versatile space that can accommodate a wide range of events, from weddings to garden picnics for the communities of Soshanguve, Mabopane and Hammanskraal. The venue boasts a diverse customer base.

According to co-founder Judith Makhotla, "Our mission is to create accessible, fun and safe spaces for people to come together and create amazing memories."

Judith is proud of their core values and focus areas, which include safety, community, cultivating genuine relationships, and fun.

Judith intends to grow and expand into new areas. "Our goal is to bring these types of event spaces to communities who might not have easy access to them. We want to create positive, lasting memories for all our customers," she says. And she plans to use the skills and training that she has learnt through the Metropolitan Collective Shapers programme to grow the self-servicing venue into a sustainable business with the primary objective to maximise return on investment and profits.
